League Members Accuse Pueyrredon of Workin For Former Foe

Geneva, Dec. 6.—The withdrawal of the Argentine delegates to the League of Nations Assembly Saturday, because the League had refused to consider amendments offered by their spokesman, Honorio Pueyrredon, has brought out the fact that Argentina is accused in certain League circles of having a secret understanding with Germany.

Although I cannot give much exact information about this accusation, it is learned that certain delegates charge that the Argentinans came to the Geneva sessions pledged to look after German interests. She endeavored to keep her pledge by presenting and demanding consideration of a resolution, which, in the opinion of certain circles here, was dictated by Germany.

It is said that at first the Argentine delegates tried to get Germany admitted to the League at once. They soon realized that it would be impossible to gain their end under a direct proposal, and, therefore, they drew up general resolutions which provided among other things, that all recognized governments were automatically to be considered members of the League.

Delegates at the League sessions here immediately spotted the possibi-

EXTOLS VIRTUES OF ORDER OF ELKS

Judge Mattingly of D. C., Predicts Million Membership For Order

IMPRESSIVE PROGRAM

Fifty Four Dead Total on List, Three of Whom Died This Year—Services Well Attended

"Fraternity is the cornerstone on which the fraternity of Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love and Fidelity the superb virtues of our order is founded" said Judge Robert E. Mattingly of Washington in delivering the annual address at the memorial exercises of Alexandria Lodge No. 758, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, held in its home last night. Continuing he said: "Our principals and mottoe have made us great and strong. Memorial day is sacred in the history of Elkdom.

"It is a great day for Virginia Lodge of Elks and particularly for the lodge at Bedford City for their Brother Warren G. Harding, President-elect of the United States, is delivering the memorial address. During the next four years Brother Harding will come under the jurisdiction of both Washington and Alexandria Lodges.

The history of Elkdom is one to be proud of. It started fifty-two years ago and today it is 800,000 strong and is rapidly marching to the coveted goal of one million strong."

The part played by the Elks during the progress of the world war was told by the speaker briefly, he revealing how they established base hospitals and helped the various agencies in the field assisting the soldiers, the Salvation Army and the American Red Cross. The Elks he declared annually helped thousands of orphans and give comfort to the widows and orphans.

The speaker referred to the splendid work done by the Elks immediately following the San Francisco earth quake, the grand exalted ruler being the first on the scene to give aid from the Elks of the country.

Opening ceremonies were conducted by George A. Kaus, exalted ruler and officers. Secretary George W Bontz, jr., called the names of the fifty-four members who have died since the order was instituted in here, 1902, three of whom died since the last memorial service, and as each name was called a light was illuminated on the stage which formed "Our Absent Brothers, B. P. O. E. 758 and this was surrounded by stars, making a total of fifty-four lights. The stage was decorated with palms and ferns and the Elks' colors purple and white predominated.

Selections were given by an orchestra under the leadership of Prof H. C. Rakemann and Prof. Rakemann also gave two violin solos. Other numbers included vocal solos by Frank E. Boyer and Miss Kathryn Brill with Miss Virginia Schwab as assompanied and vocal solo by Tolbert Haslett with Mrs. William Meeks as accompanist.

The singing of "Nearer My God to Thee" by the audience and benediction by Rev. Edgar Carpenter chaplain of the lodge brought the exercises to a close. The exercises were attended by a large gathering of members of the order and their friends and were very impressive.

The officers of the local lodge are: Geo. A. Kaus, exalted ruler; H. A Stewart, esteemed leading knight; J. J. Garvey, esteemed loyal knight; J. Robert Travers, esteemed lecturing knight; Geo. W. Bontz, Jr., secretary; H. Friedlander, treasurer; T. D. Downey, tiler; Henry Callan, esquire; Rev Edgar Carpenter, chaplain; Jas McGowan, inner guard.

Trustees—M. W. Goines, A. A. Paul and D. E. Robey.

ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The Y. M. C. A. community social at the Westminster Building Saturday evening was conducted by the Methodist Protestant Church and was a highly enjoyable affair. Games were indulged in more than usual and many expressed great pleasure at having a place for real social pleasure of a truly democratic nature.

The tables were tastefully decorated and the dinner hour a delightful one. Mrs. W. S. Risdon, together with many of the ladies and younger people of the church, assisted by Miss Cora L. Cochran, were responsible for the pleasant evening.

Mrs. Harry B. Caton, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., announced that the social next Saturday will be in the hands of the Auxiliary itself, and will be in the nature of a testimonial to the young peoples' societies of the churches of the city. It is not intended to confine it to the societies that have had charge of the socials, but to invite all to join in the last social before holidays.

The Auxiliary will not serve a regular dinner, as has been done heretofore, but will serve refreshments throughout the evening which will be free. "Nothing will be on sale during the evening," said Mrs. Caton, "as we want everybody to come and have a good time, and the Auxiliary feels that it would like to show its appreciation of the splendid way in which the young people of the city have responded to the call for service during the weeks past."

SINN FEIN HEAD LEADS FOR PEACE

Sends Telegram to Lloyd George Asking Concrete Proposals

ASKS FOR FIRST STEP

New Spirit of Conciliation is Noticeable in England—Gulf Still is Wide

Dublin, Dec. 6.—The Rev. Michael O'Flanagan, acting president of Sinn Fein, has sent the following telegram to Premier Lloyd George:

"You state that you are willing to make peace at once, without waiting for Christmas, Ireland also is willing. What first step do you propose?"

London Dec. 6.—As the movement to establish peace in Ireland gains momentum, a change of front throughout the country is noticeable. The attitude of the press toward the work of the commission of British laborites under Arthur Henderson, that is now in Ireland, and its growing sympathy for measures looking toward peace, must be taken as indicative of the feeling of the country.

Although there is no justification for the bald statement that the two warring factions are now on the verge of making peace, a new spirit of conciliation certainly is in the air. Viscount Grey is among those who

Auto Fatal To 3,808

U. S. Death Rate 17.1 Per 100,000 in 1919, Census Reports

A total of 3,808 persons were killed in automobile accidents or died as a result of injuries therefrom during last year, the census bureau announced yesterday in a statement offering suggestions for traffic improvement. An automobile accident death rate of 14.1 out of every 100,000 of population was reported for 1919, an increase over every year since 1915, when the rate was 8.0 and an increase of 245 in the total number of deaths over 1918.

"Each year it becomes more and more dangerous for a person to walk the streets," the census bureau's statement said. "The reason usually given, and probably the correct one, is that the number of automobiles in use is constantly increasing. How then shall this ever-increasing danger be lessened The obvious remedy is to improve constantly the traffic regulations to keep pace with the ever increasing number of automobiles.

Must Improve Schools

Congressman R. Walton Moore Comes Out Strongly for Revival of Learning

Richmond, Va., Dec. 6.—Demanding Federal aid for the public school systems of the country, Congressman R. Walton Moore, of the Eighth Virginia District, in an address at the Co-Operative Education Association in the John Marshall High School here, declared that there was a most urgent need for better school conditions in the rural districts. He told the members of the association, which for the last sixteen years has been organizing community leagues in Virginia, that more funds were vital to the extension of the work of properly preparing the rising generation for citizenship. He said in part the following:

"The war has produced a very serious situation. There is confusion everywhere, and everywhere an interrogation of standards and theories that had been accepted were supposed to be fixed. But some of our conceptions are left comparatively unassailed. One of them is that democratic institutions are the best, and another is that they depend for their permanence and vigor upon an intelligent and educated democracy. This is our ideal, and we must more completely realize it by advancing and improving our public school system.

WHAT ARTICLE X MEANS

When members of the Assembly or Council of the League of Nations say that Americans take Article X too seriously, they are more polite than the occasion requires. Nobody in America misunderstands Article X. Every Republican knows that the article was attacked merely because, as Senator Lodge said, "We are fighting President Wilson." The peace treaty, was unobjectionable until a Republican conspiracy decided that the treaty should be beaten because the President helped to frame it. Article X, as Mr. Taft showed, was not particularly open to attack. It did not commit the members of the League to more than other articles committed them. It was singled out for attack because it was distinctly the President's composition.

The committee on League membership reported:

It cannot be too emphatically stated that Article X does not guarantee the territorial integrity of any member of the League. All it does is to condemn external aggression on the territorial integrity and political independence of any member of the League, and call upon the Council to consider what can be done to resist such aggression.

Everybody, including every Republican, knows that this is true. The text of the article shows this. The explanation was made thousands of times during the campaign. The statement of William Howard Taft to this effect was published innumerable times.

A Geneva dispatch to The New York Herald describes this as "a new interpretation," and alleges that it "was obviously designed to overcome the objections of the United States." The headline over the dispatch is "Drawing Teeth of Article X." All this is misrepresentation. The article speaks for itself. The President has explained it, and the ex-President, who spoke for the peace treaty as a whole from the same platform as the President spoke, has explained it in precisely the same manner. There is no misunderstanding; there is only systematic misrepresentation for purely partisan ends.

The article may be dropped as a means of conciliating the incoming Administration. But that would not prove that the Republican falsehood about the article was true. It would not lessen the obligation of members of the League, under other articles, to use force if necessary to prevent war. The President objected to the omission of the article, and he was justified in so doing. The article belongs in the treaty. But if it should be omitted in order to "save the face" of a Republican Administration in accepting the rest of the treaty, the obligation of the United States to join the rest of the civilized world in averting war would remain.

Order Chocolate Sodas But Take Cash Instead

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The human mind is inconsistent and subject to change without notice. As proof, take the case of the two men who entered the ice cream parlor of George R. Theodoropulous here recently.

They ordered chocolate sodas.

But when Theodoropulous went back to prepare he drinks they suddenly changed their minds and took the $650 in the cash register instead.

And they didn't even pay George for the trouble of preparing the drinks.

The retention of excess profits and income taxes.

Federal investigation and publication of the costs of production of simple commodities.

A Federal bureau to study and spread knowledge about societies including co-operative banks.

WOMAN DRY AGENT HELD AS PROHIBITION VIOLATOR

San Francisco, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Glad K. Warburton, former acting Federal prohibition enforcement officer for the State, John Costello, secretary to United States Senator James Phelan, and John L. Ramsner, appeared in the United States District Court yesterday to be arraigned on indictments charging them with conspiracy to violate the Volstead Prohibition Enforcement Act. Their bail was set at $10,000 each and December 4 was set as the date on which they will plead.

The indictments were returned by a Federal grand jury and placed on the secret file. They were voted in connection with an alleged plot to obtain illegally, intoxicating liquors from bonded government warehouses

Mrs. Warburton was removed from her position as temporary enforcement officer after the investigation by the grand jury began. Costello in a formal statement denied knowledge of the alleged conspiracy.

Bavaria Defies Reichstag; Refuses Two Requests

Berlin, Dec. 6.—Maintaining her usual saucy attitude to the Reichstag, Bavaria yesterday sent flat refusals to two requests made by the Berlin Government.

When sounded regarding her willingness to supply a quota of troops toward the proposed Berlin guard regiment being organized to protect the capital in these troublous times, Bavaria replied negatively. Bavaria also refused to close the demobilization offices of regiments which have ceased to exist.

PRESIDENT ELECT

Leading Members of Elks From All Over Nation Gather at Elks' Home

Bedford, Va., Dec. 6.—President-Elect Warren G. Harding yesterday laid aside politics and the affairs of state while he joined more than 1,000 fellow members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in paying a final tribute to memory of their dead. He journeyed from Norfolk overnight to this mountain city and devoted the last day of his vacation to the tender duty of memorializing the little group of fourteen forever absent residents of the National Home of the Elks.

In an address of perhaps half an hour the President-elect poured forth the sentiments that moved him on so solemn an occasion concluding with the thought that "fraternity strikes the common chords and the world needs more of the fraternity of peoples and nations.

Leading Elks came to Bedford yesterday from all section of the country They came in private cars, on special trains and in smaller groups. They felt honored that the President-elect should give to them the last day before he resumes his seat in the Senate and before he plunges deep into the important business of Cabinet and policy making preparatory to his inauguration on March 4.

Virginia Elks and their friends were here by the hundreds, Richmond Norfolk, Newport News and Bristol sent representative delegations. Lynchburg and Roanoke nearby, sent special trains. Nearly a score came here from Baltimore on a special car and others from more remote States made the pilgrimage to this shrine of Elkdom, The Baltimore party arrived early yesterday morning, headed by Past Exalted Ruler John B. Berger and Henry W. Mears past grand trustee, and one of the men who founded this national institution.

PRESIDENT WALKS UNAIDED ON WHITE HOUSE LAWN

Washington, Dec. 6.—President Wilson insists that he is strong enough to appear before Congress Tuesday and read his message, and, just to prove it, he went out doors and walked around the White House yesterday, unaided by attendants or even a cane.

All that can dissuade him from his purpose is the advice, if not demand, of Mrs. Wilson and Admiral Grayson, his physician, Both are understood to be averse to the undertaking.

After his stroll in the White House grounds yesterday, Mr. Wilson went for a motor ride with Mrs. Wilson shortly before noon. He slept for an hour after his midday meal and then read and chatted with Mrs. Wilson.

Explosions on Munitions Lighter Fire Brooklyn Wharf

New York, Dec. 6.—Hundreds of homes in the Fort Hamilton section of Brooklyn virtually were under heavy artillery bombardment Saturday afternoon resulting from intermittent explosions of six-inch and ten-inch shells on a steam lighter, the Amackissan, which caught fire while moored to the army reservation wharf.

Gathering together their belongings in a belief that the naval arsenal at Fort Lafayette, a small island near Fort Hamilton, was ablaze, terrifed scores fled their homes for safer zones, driven to frenzied haste by the series of detonations, which were heard for miles around.

An official statement from Fort Hamilton last night said no lives had been lost and that only four persons had been injured and these but slightly.

Bristol, Va., Dec. 6.—One man was killed and several wounded early today when a mob mob attacked the ail at Appalacjhia, Wise county, Va., in an unsuccessful attempt to obtain possession of a negro named Williams.

bridge between the Government and Sinn Fein.

Everyone is talking as if a peace by Christmas was inevitable, although in the background there is a feeling that some kaleidoscopic change might come in the situation over night, particularly if some outrage came to divert public attention away from the fundamentals.

Although the gulf between the enemies is extremely wide, the fact that several Irish peers are reported to have visited in Downing street in the last few days is taken as evidence that the conciliatory steps are not only on the side of the Government. The Sunday Observer believes that the possibility of a truce by Christmas rests largely with the Catholic Church, and says that if it will use its influence it may mean "a surcease of horror and tumult and some renewed chance for reasonable counsels."

The resolutions seeking peace passed by Galway County and Urbans Councils are prominently displayed in the press and treated as if they were tantamount to a peace overture.

The Home Rule bill will come for further consideration in the House of Lords this week. Although great holes have already been made in it, it is certain to become law as soon as the House of Commons has approved the amendments tacked on by the peers. Even in Parliament, where the bitterness toward Sinn Fein finds its loudest expression, a notable change in attitude is expected to develop this week. A number of important questions that are calculated to bring out the Government's attitude toward the peace movement will be put to the Premier in the House of Commons tomorrow.

JEWS QUESTION LEGALITY OF SUNDAY ENFORCEMENT

New York, Dec. 6.—The Jewish Sabbath Alliance of America, in a statement issued here yesterday, declared that attempt to put into effect Sunday "blue laws' would be a direct violation of the constitutional guarantee of religious freedom.

"What these opponents of the seventh day call the American Sabbath," the statement read, "is nothing more than a subterfuge.

"There is no American Sabbath as well as there is no English, German or Dutch Sabbath. There is no reason in existence which permits any body of legislators to decide in this theological question that one party is totally right and the other wrong.

"Even at the present time the existing laws on statute books of the State of New York are the grossest injustice to a large portion of the citizenry of this country, and the alliance will make every effort to amend same to allow the seventh-day, observing American citizen equal rights as are given any other portion of the citizenry."

Out of Every 200 17 Turned Down

Bureau of Social Hygiene, of the State of Virginia, at the Y. M. C. A. mass meeting for men at the Richmond Theatre yesterday afternoon.

A splendid audience greeted the director of the bureau of social hygiene when he arose to deliver one of the most impressive talks of the entire series. The meeting began with a band concert by the Citizens' Band, and after some congregational singing Dr. E. V. Regester led in prayer. The speaker was introduced by Dr. J. L. Allison.

Dr. Allison in introducing Rev. Nelson said that Alexandria was squarely behind the state efforts in behalf of the public health, and said he believed he was expressing the sentiment of every man present when he said that Alexandria was contemplating no retrenchment along health lines, but rather an advancement.

Mr. Nelson at once explained the workings of the state bureau of health and told how utterly impossible it would be for the state to attempt to do any of the local work of a bacteriological nature in a satisfactory manner as it might have to wait several months in turn before receiving any attention.

The lecture on social hygiene was entirely devoid of morbidity and handled in a thoroughly tactful manner. Not ever twenty minutes were consumed in telling in a very forceful manner some pertinent truths, that were so told as not to be soon forgotten. Dr. Rachelle Yarrow, a foremost social hygiene worker, was a close listener throughout the address and at its close highly complimented the speaker.

Several reels of motion pictures were shown at the close of the talk and the men present were indeed fortunate in seeing the latest development of the government agencies for social hygiene. The pictures were of a highly educational value, and, like the address, presented no objectional features.

N. S. Greenaway, chairman of the religious work committee of the Y. M. C. A. announced that the meeting next Sunday would close the series and would be a Bible class rally day, and would be addressed by J. H. Trimyer, teacher of the Henry K. Field Bible Class of the M. E. Church South. The bible classes of the city will attend in a body, the teachers will have seats on the platform, and most of them will have a part in the service.

A large audience of representative women heard the lecture given by Dr. Rachelle Yarros, of Chicago, yesterday afternoon in the Ingomar Theatre

Mrs. Harry B. Caton, president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A., presided, and the opening prayer was offered by Mrs. William Campbell, vice president of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society. Miss Elizabeth Ramey was in charge of the young lady ushers.

Preceding the address and films, a community sing was led by Miss Esther Schneiker, who also sang a solo. Mrs. S. Dexter Forbes was the pianist

Mrs. Caton introduced the Rev. R. B. Nelson, director of the state bureau of social hygiene, who made a brief address, before introducing Major Robinson, one of the most noted women physicians in the country, and prominent in the public health work of the United States government.

Maj. Robinson's address was short but of intense interest to the women assembled. She was followed by Dr. Yarros in a wonderful talk that every woman in the city should have heard. The films were instructive and were explained by Dr. Yarros in the most simple language, clearly carrying to all the importance of the social hygiene work throughout the country.

Winter Brings Many Ills to Pale, Overworked People

TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

Fortify Your System—Good Blood Will Give You New Strength To Keep Well

If you feel the least bit run down, not necessarily sick, but tired and blue and sort of down and out, it shows plainly that your power of reistance is low.

It is dangerous to go around that way. You don't want to do it.

Make no mistake about it, when you feel yourself slipping into lazy habits, getting indifferent to the things you naturally like—no energy, no vigor, always tired—it is time to look out. It may not mean that you are sick or that you will be. But there are diseases that would have an easy time of it with your system when your blood has no fighting qualities.

You want to be well and keep well and feel strong. If you build up the quality of your blood by taking Pepto-Mangan you will be in trim to fight off winter ills. It has just the right ingredients to build your blood up with rich, red corpuscles.

Pepto-Mangan gives your blood the qualities it needs to pick you up and start you off on a healthy basis. You will notice the difference soon after you start taking it. You will have better color, better feeling, and more energy.

You can take it in liquid or tablet form as you prefer. Both have the same ingredients. But be sure you get the genuine Gude's Pepto-Mangan. Ask for it by that name—"Gude's Pepto-Mangan," and be sure the full name is on the package.

"One store charges $1.25 for a box of the same goods sold at the other store for $1.50, while still another sells one brand for 65 cents that retails at 85 cents at the fourth place," said Secretary R. J. Poole.

Candy makers are paid $55 a week said one manufacturer, in explanation, when on the examining stand.

MOVIES

INGOMAR THEATRE

Douglas Fairbanks in "The Matrimaniac" at the Ingomar Theater tonight makes a whirlwind campaign to overcome the objections of his sweetheart's father. The objections are seemingly unsurmountable,—but Fairbanks in his characteristic way dashes by all obstacles. His adventures and acrobatics fairly take one's breath away. The action is furiously fast and at times screamingly funny.

Auction Sale

Public sale of Holsteins at Rockbridge Dairy Farm Wednesday, December 15 (rain or shine), on the far mof David N. Rust, Jr., located three miles east of Leesburg, Loudoun county, on the Washington Leesburg Pike and being on Goose Creek, ten minutes walk from Compher Station on the Washington and Old Dominion Railway. Car leaves Alexandria at 7:10 a. m., arriving at 9:30 o'clock. Will be met. Having decided to discontinue dairying I will offer at public auction on above date and place without reservation my entire herd of milking Holsteins. 80 head, 16 head registered animals, 64 head high grade cows. The majority of these animals have been bred and developed right on the farm and were sired by such noted bulls as King of Butter Boy, King's Son and Soldiers Home Woodcrest Tehee. These cows are all young straight and sound and have never been forced in dairy, but simply run on blue grass pasture in summer and consumed the roughage on the farm in winter with little grain fed. Consequently they will respond immediately to heavy feeding. Some are fresh now milking well and quite a number due within thirty to sixty days. All bred to fine registered bull. The grades are well marked and will make a valuable addition to any herd. The pure breds carry some of the best blood of the breed. The cows have just passed the annual Federal test and health certificates can be issued for shipment to any state in the union. This herd is considered to be on one of the best in Northern Virginia.

Terms of sale. Three per cent off for cash or a nine months' note with satisfactory indorsement.

Lunch served on grounds.

Mothers who have given Foley's Honey and Tar to their children know it is absolutely safe. It tastes good and won't injure the most delicate stomach. It should be kept in the family medicine chest the year 'round—always ready when needed.

Argentine Act

lities which the Argentine resolutions involved and ironically directed these proposed amendments to the commission dealing with the admission of enemy states, of which Antonio Huneus, of Chile, is chairman.

The Argentine program, however, included several other measures, all favorable to Germany, but not ostensibly related to the question of admission of enemy States. Commission No. 5, seized on the fact that many questions raised in the proposals were irrelevant to the work of that commission and sent them back to the Assembly.

This procedure is said to have driven Pueyrredon into a corner. Either he must accept a beating or fight against the unanimous opinion of the Assembly. He chose the latter course, and, gaining no support save for a solitary vote from Paraguay, he was forced to withdraw the Argentine delegates from the League.

The story, however, is not complete without the additional statement that a disagreement over Pueyrredon's course is said to have arisen in the Argentine delegation, which is regarded as a change in the country's policies if Pueyrredon and his supporters were eliminated from power.

Pueyrredon said today that he and his associates would return to the League Assembly if an official invitation were extended to them, but he modified this statement by adding that if Argentinians resumed their place they would withdraw again unless the Assembly accepted the amendments he had proposed. The fact that the officials of the League met in executive session last night to consider the situation and decided not to extend any such invitation to the Argentine delegates is considered as ending Pueyrredon's hopes on that score.

The initial fear that Argentina's action would aid the League's enemies is now disappearing. It is said that Argentina is not supported by other nations, even among the South Americans, Colombia, Switzerland, Canada the Scandinavians, Portugal, and apparently every other state that has urged amendments is willing to wait till the next meeting of the league to have these considered. This unanimity of action is pointed to as supporting the assertion that Argentina has motives which are not shared by other nations and supports the theory that Germany is involved in Argentina's action.
